

SUPPORTING ELs IS EVERYONE'S RESPONSIBILITY. BECOME A SWEL COACH.

We know that as an ESL teacher, you are frequently asked to support your general education colleagues and even facilitate professional development for school staff members who rarely have any type of ESL training in their teacher preparation programs.

It's time that you harness your expertise as an ESL teacher to become a site-based resource for your colleagues using the School-Wide English Learning (SWEL) framework!

Why should I become a SWEL Coach?

- You will be recognized as an English language teaching expert at your school.
- You will gain the skills to help your English learners achieve better outcomes with support throughout their school day.
- You will receive the tools and professional development you need to be a resource to your colleagues.

How do I become a SWEL Coach?

- 1 Start with the SWEL Contextual Language Workshop to learn about a linguistically inclusive approach to language in the classroom.
- 2 Continue with the SWEL Professional Development Workshop to learn how to facilitate professional development for your peers.
- 3 End with the SWEL Coaching Workshop & Administrator's Workshop to prepare for implementation of the SWEL model along with your school's administrators.

You'll receive a digital badge for each workshop and a SWEL Coach Certificate and badge upon completion that you can share online!*
